With a coverage area reaching 14,000 residences, the Messenger Journal is a weekly newspaper produced by Welch Publishing Company and proudly continues the newspaper's 150-year tradition as the repository of local news in the Perrysburg community.

The Perrysburg Messenger (1935) and the Perrysburg Journal merged in 1965. Robert and Dorothy Welch have owned the newspaper since 1969.

The oldest newspaper in Wood County, the first issue of the Perrysburg Journal included President Franklin Pierce's inaugural address. The newspaper has evolved over the years from a patchwork of national/state/local news to a newspaper with an emphatically local focus.

If it happened in Perrysburg... read about it in the Messenger Journal.
